Risks and Benefits of Therapy

Psychotherapy is a process in which we will discuss a myriad of issues for the purpose of creating positive change so that you can experience your life more fully. Psychotherapy is a joint effort. Participating in therapy may result in a number of benefits to you, including, but not limited to, reduced stress and anxiety, a decrease in negative thought and behaviors, improved interpersonal relationships, increased comfort in social, school, and family settings, and increased self-confidence. Such benefits may also require substantial effort on your part, as well as family members, including an active participation in the therapeutic process, honesty, and a willingness to change feelings, thoughts and behaviors. There is no guarantee that therapy will yield any or all of the benefits listed above. Participating in therapy may also involve some emotional discomfort. There may be times in which I will challenge the perceptions and assumptions of you and other family members, and offer different perspectives. The issues presented by you may result in unintended outcomes, including changes in personal relationships. I do not make decisions about your life and your relationships for you. I will help explore and discuss issues and options, but you will make the decisions.

Telehealth

Technology assisted services are available when clinically appropriate. I follow security best practices and legal standards in order to protect your health care information, but you will also need to participate in maintaining your own security and privacy on your end. You are responsible for using a space that is free of other people. It should be difficult or impossible for people outside your space to see or hear your interactions with me during our session. Please do not record sessions. I do not record sessions.

Video sessions are provided via Vsee using end to end encryption (FIPS 140-2 certified 256-bit AES encryption). It is compatible with most devices: Iphone Ipad, Android, Windows, PC, and Mac. There are risks and benefits to using telehealth. Telehealth services can be impacted by technical failures, may introduce risks to your privacy, malicious actors (“hackers”) may have the ability to access your private information that is transmitted or stored in the process of telemental health-based service delivery. and may reduce your service provider’s ability to directly intervene in crises or emergencies. Hardware and software can have sudden failures or have a poor connection at times. We can often troubleshoot and resolve any technological issues together. Please tell me if you are having any difficulty with telehealth technology that distracts from the services being provided. Raising questions or concerns will not, by itself, result in a termination of services. Bringing your concerns to your counselor is often a part of the counseling process.

Should there be a technical failure, please call me at 817-823-7311 (direct line) or I will call you at the cell phone number on file. I will determine on an on-going basis whether the condition being assessed or treated is appropriate for technology-assisted services. I have completed 18 credit hours in continuing education to engage in technology-assisted services and I complete an additional 2 hours every two years to remain current in technology assisted services. Technology assisted services provide convenience and access to services that may not otherwise be possible due to location or weather or other circumstances that may prevent you from coming to my office for a face to face visit. For Optum/UHC members, sessions are alternatively available via the virtual visit platform provided by Optum/UHC. Sessions are not recorded.

EHR

Records are maintained in a cloud based Electronic Health Record system (therapyappointment.com/schedule.care) for at least six years for an adult client and five years beyond the age of 18 for a minor. Therapyappointment.com is the cloud based Electronic Health Record (EHR) system that I use for encrypted, secure HIPAA and HITECH compliant records, notes, messaging and document storage. You can schedule and cancel appointments in the EHR. You can also use the EHR to communicate with me via secure messaging. Additionally, there is a link on my website to send a secure email or send me documents/files securely.

Dual Relationships

I will avoid a therapeutic relationship with a personal friend, educational or business associate and will avoid the development of a personal, educational or business relationship with a therapy client.

Termination of Therapy

If at any point during therapy, I assess that I am not effective in helping you reach the therapeutic goals, I am obliged to discuss it with you and, if appropriate, to terminate treatment. In such a case, I would give you a number of referrals that may be of help to you. You have the right to terminate therapy at any time.

Client Litigation

I will not voluntarily participate in any litigation, or custody dispute, in which you and another individual, or entity, are parties. It is agreed that should there be legal proceedings neither you, nor your attorney, nor anyone else acting on your behalf will call on me to testify in court or at any other proceeding, nor will a disclosure of the psychotherapy records be requested. If compelled, the billing
